

Construction Law in Canada published

July 2010

Co-authors Timothy J. Murphy and Leonard Richetti published Construction Law in Canada, the first Canadian resource to address all relevant construction law issues in a single, convenient volume.

Contributors include: Jason J. Annibale, Chris Bennett, Mary L. Flynn-Guglietti, Stephanie Hamelin, Bill Hearn, Amanda Klein, Jeffrey Levine, Luigi \(Lou\) Macchione, Dave J.G. McKechnie, Max Mendelsohn, Marc-André Morin, Michael M. Peterson, David N. Ross, and Nicholas Scheib.

Construction Law in Canada is published by LexisNexis and provides a concise, organized and informed narrative of the law that governs the development, ownership, financing and completion of construction projects in Canada.

Topics include:

- acquiring property,
- amendments to the Ontario Planning Act,
- environmental issues,
- procurement and tendering processes,
- financing, public private partnerships (PPPs),
- insurance and surety bonds,
- delivery methods,
- occupational health and safety,
- construction disputes,
- the Construction Lien Act, and
- construction hypothecs under Quebec law.

For more information on Construction Law in Canada please click here.