notice of temporary disruptions

McMillan will provide clients with notice in the event of a planned or unexpected disruption in the facilities (as it relates to the space occupied by our firm) or services usually used by persons with disabilities. Our clients may expect that our notices will provide, where practical; information about: the reason for the disruption (provided such knowledge is available), the anticipated duration of the disruption; and alternative facilities or services, if any are available.

This information will be made available to the public as soon as possible after McMillan has been notified of the unplanned disruption. For all planned disruptions, notices shall be provided in advance of the scheduled disruption.
