

COVID-19: MAY 6TH UPDATE ON THE IMPACTS TO DEVELOPMENT APPLICATIONS AND HEARINGS

Posted on May 6, 2020

Categories: Insights, Publications

This is an update to our previous bulletins (March 23, 30, April 7, 15, and 22, 2020) detailing the impacts of COVID-19 on development applications and hearings in Ontario. An updated list reflecting the status of a number of GTA municipalities may be found at the end of this update.

Provincial State of Emergency & Emergency Orders

The Provincial State of Emergency as declared pursuant to the Emergency Management and Civil Protection Act, RSO 1990, c. E.9 (the "EMCPA") was extended on April 14, 2020 for 28 days, until May 12, 2020. Almost all Emergency Orders made under the EMCPA are made pursuant to s.7.0.2(4) and have been further extended until May 19, 2020 pursuant to O. Reg. 106/20. In contrast, O. Reg. 73/20 (made under s.7.1(2)) is effective for the "duration of the emergency" to a maximum of 90 days, subject to further renewals of up to 90 days (s.7.1(4) and (5)).

On April 27, 2020, the Province announced its "Framework for Reopening Our Province" careful not to commit to any firm dates and calling it a "roadmap, not a calendar." The framework is organized into three phases: 1) "Protect and Support", 2) "Restart", and 3) "Recover". The second phase, "Restart," involves three stages: 1) open businesses and select workplaces that can meet health and safety requirements, and some outdoor spaces such as parks; 2) open more workplaces and outdoor spaces, and allow some larger public gatherings; 3) open remaining workplaces and further relax public gathering restrictions. Each stage will be evaluated on a 2-4 week timeframe, with constant reassessment of new daily COVID-19 cases. The evaluation of each stage will be based on 4 key factors: virus spread and containment, health system capacity, public health system capacity, and incidence tracking capacity. The Province has provided sector-specific guidelines to employers on how to open safely and protect their employees and customers, focusing on 5 key economic sectors: construction, food processing, restaurant and food services, agriculture, and manufacturing.

On Friday, May 1, 2020, the Premier announced that certain businesses and workplaces (including seasonal businesses and some essential construction projects) would be permitted to begin reopening as of May 4, 2020, subject to their compliance with strict public health and safety guidelines. The Province has developed more than 60 guidelines, and the sector-specific measures are intended to help employers prepare for workplaces to be reopened safely. The Province cautioned, however, that it remains "critical" that people "continue to practise physical distancing and good hygiene habits." The announcement confirmed that, while the Province is still in Phase One – Protect and Support, the move to permit "certain businesses and workplaces to open under strict guidelines demonstrates the government's commitment to balance the needs of the economy with the health and safety of the people of Ontario."

New Planning Act Regulations: Special Rules Relating to Declared Emergency (O. Reg. 149/20)

In our previous bulletin, we discussed the new regulation made under the Planning Act: O. Reg. 149/20, being the Special Rules Relating to Declared Emergency. This new regulation modifies application of O. Reg. 73/20 to Planning Act matters in order to provide municipalities with more flexibility relating to Planning Act timelines for making decisions during this State of Emergency. While some timelines remain suspended (albeit now pursuant to O. Reg. 149/20), others no longer are. As a result, interested parties will once again begin to receive notices of decision from municipalities, upon which notice appeal timelines will begin to run. As emphasized previously, we strongly recommend continuing to adhere to all appeal timelines, despite the fact that the Local Planning Appeal Tribunal ("LPAT") is not currently scheduling hearings of new appeals. Note that O. Reg. 149/20 relates only to Planning Act matters; as such, it does not impact the Local Planning Appeal Tribunal Act.

The Local Planning Appeal Tribunal

It is our understanding that the LPAT continues to operate with minimal staff on site at its offices, and that the mailroom remains closed. The LPAT is continuing to consider electronic options.

As previously noted, all hearings until June 30, 2020 have been adjourned, though the LPAT is exercising its discretion under O. Reg. 73/20 to lift the suspension of timelines on a case-by-case basis in order to begin moving outstanding settlement and other merit hearings forward. We have been advised that, within the last 2-3 weeks, there have been at least four settlement hearings conducted by telephone conference call ("TCC"), and a number have also proceeded in writing. The LPAT recently sent out 2 types of form emails to interested parties: 1) where hearings had been cancelled, to set up status update calls; and 2) where hearings are set for July or August 2020, to inquire whether parties have been proceeding in accordance with the Procedural Orders on consent (as these timelines have continued to be suspended) in order to be in a position to proceed as scheduled. The LPAT has not yet made a policy decision to address the circumstance where parties have not adhered to the Procedural Order dates. We also understand that, as a result of such communications, the LPAT is currently scheduling approximately 50 hearing events by TCC for the weeks of May 4th and May 11th, being a mix of settlement hearings and status updates or case management conferences. Additionally, the LPAT continues to be open to the potential to schedule virtual mediations, and interested parties should reach out to

Sandra Chan at the LPAT.
