

CYBER RISK INSURANCE: DRIVING THE RISK MANAGEMENT PROCESS

Posted on October 20, 2015

Categories: Insights, Publications

Insurers and other insurance professionals have traditionally been well positioned to drive improvements in risk management processes. Cyber-security risk is a modern phenomenon which has arisen in the electronic information and internet age, and the insurance industry is demonstrating that it can play a key role both in educating and equipping public and private sector organizations to manage this emerging risk, and in providing insurance protection.

Read more