mcmillan

MISREPRESENTATION DEFINES THE LIMIT OF REASSESSING BEYOND THE LIMITATION PERIOD: INWEST INVESTMENTS LTD. V. CANADA, CANADIAN TAX JOURNAL, (2015) VOL. 63, NO. 4.

Posted on February 3, 2016

Categories: Insights, Publications

INTRODUCTION

*Inwest Investments Ltd.*⁵¹ came before the BC Supreme Court by way of a summary trial application and is one of several recent examples of bad judgment on the part of the CRA in litigating a reassessment with faint hope of success. The court found that the statutory limitation period applied to bar the CRA from reassessing the taxpayer.

Read more...