McMillan is pleased to announce that Capital Markets partner Amandeep Sandhu has been selected as one of the leading lawyers in Canada under the age of 40 in Lexpert's 2013 "Rising Stars" competition. McMillan partners Éloïse Gratton, Adam Maerov, Mike Richmond and Robbie Grossman were also selected as finalists.

"We congratulate Amandeep on this significant achievement, and are honoured that that he has been recognized for his exceptional leadership in the legal community," says Karl Gustafson, Managing Partner of McMillan's Vancouver office. "Having such a forward-thinking member of the team is an asset we leverage to our clients' benefit regularly."

Amandeep specializes in M&A transactions and financings, particularly in the mining industry. As Chair of the firm's Inclusion & Diversity Committee and Chair of McMillan's India practice group, Amandeep demonstrates exceptional leadership and judgment in championing important initiatives.

The Lexpert Rising Stars award recognizes legal leaders under 40 nominated by their peers on criteria such as leadership, professional achievements, business acumen, adaptability, teamwork and interpersonal skills.
