mcmillan

MARK KLASSEN QUOTED IN THE NATIONAL POST ON ALBERTA CONSTRUCTION LABOUR AGREEMENTS TYING WAGE INCREASES TO COMMODITY PRICES

Posted on August 29, 2013

Category: News

>Alberta construction labour deal contains innovative twist August 29, 2013 - The National Post Drew Hasselback

Mark Klassen, a litigator with experience in oil and gas disputes comments on why wages in Alberta construction labour agreements, such as a massive oil sands project are being tied to the price of oil.

Please click here to read the article.