China Practice Co-Chair Stephen Wortley was recently featured as a success story in the InvestHK publication – Canada: Reaching Your Goal in Hong Kong.

The case study entitled: "Building Bridges between Canada and Asia" appropriately describes the business objective of the China Practice Group and its focus on building an extensive network both here and in the Asia-Pacific region. The InvestHK publication tracks the success of the group in recent merger and acquisition transactions and stock exchange listings, and profiles how a number of Canadian businesses have taken advantage of the Hong Kong business platform. The article also highlights how McMillan LLP has leveraged its office in Hong Kong for work between the city and Mainland China, and as jumping off point for investments into Canada.
