In recognition of McMillan's continued efforts to build an exceptional workplace culture, the firm is pleased to share that we are once again named a Greater Toronto's Top Employer for 2025. This marks the firm's third consecutive year winning this award.

"We value people and foster an environment where innovation and idea generation are key to everyone's success," said Bruce Chapple, CEO and Managing Partner. "Continuous education, training and support play a huge role in achieving that collaborative atmosphere and cohesive culture," says Chapple.

The Greater Toronto's Top Employers competition recognizes employers with exceptional programs and forward-thinking workplace policies, all designed to promote employee growth and satisfaction. Recipients of this award are praised for their work environments and looked upon as leading organizations within the region.
