

CHRISTOPHER PURDON

Categories: People, Business Professionals

Christopher Purdon is McMillan's National Manager of E-Discovery Support. Chris works with clients and their legal teams on all manner of e-discovery and records management projects to find efficiencies and provide cost-effective solutions. He collaborates with lawyers and firm clients as they work through the various e-discovery phases from identification and collection through to review and production, of data, ensuring the timely and accurate delivery and safeguarding of electronic records.

His technical knowledge is invaluable to help manage the challenges posed by today's technology and the massive volume of data. He works extensively with McMillan's litigation, patent, regulatory and competition law practices delivering his expertise on e-discovery projects that require the management of large volumes of electronically stored information.

Email: christopher.purdon@mcmillan.ca

Expertise: Litigation & Dispute Resolution, Competition, Antitrust & Foreign Investment, Employment & Labour Relations

Location: Toronto

Phone: 416.865.7839

Position/Title: National Manager of E-Discovery Support

Education & Admissions:

Degree: Certified eDiscovery Specialist

University: Association of Certified eDiscovery Specialists (ACEDS)

Year: 2016

Degree: Law Clerk

University: Mohawk College

Year: 1997

Representative Matters:

- SABMiller plc in its Canadian Competition Bureau clearance of its US $107 billion take-over by Anheuser-Busch InBev SA/NV.

Practices: Employment & Labour Relations, Litigation & Dispute Resolution, Competition, Antitrust & Foreign Investment