

Seeking Financial Services Associate Lawyer (3-5 years)

McMillan LLP, one of Canada's leading business law firms, is currently seeking a solicitor associate lawyer with 3-5 years of post-call, private practice experience to join McMillan's growing Calgary office. This is a tremendous opportunity for an entrepreneurial solicitor who is passionate about financial services work, and who is excited about business development and the prospect of building the Calgary office's financial services practice.

The successful candidate will work with the firm's diverse clients on a variety of domestic and cross-border lending, mortgage loan, financing, insolvency and restructuring matters. McMillan's client base includes banks, financial institutions, hedge funds, private lenders and equity funds, creditors' committees, manufacturers, oil & gas producers, developers and agribusiness. We are experienced advisers in sophisticated finance transactions including cross-border syndicated loan financing, commercial financing, real estate financing, project financing, leasing, factoring, securitization, equipment financing, and asset-based loan transactions.

We offer a dynamic, growth-oriented and positive work environment at a national law firm, in which the successful candidate will have the opportunity to work on a broad range of matters with lawyers and clients in Calgary, nationally and internationally. McMillan LLP is well known for its commitment to professional development, training, mentorship and support.

Applicants must have between 3-5 years of relevant private practice experience and strong professional and academic credentials. Experience in multi-jurisdictional lending, private equity, asset based lending and oil and gas would be considered an asset, but is not required. If you are interested in this unique opportunity to join a growing and entrepreneurial office with a collaborative and forward looking work environment, please submit a cover letter, resume and law school transcripts in confidence to:
