

Employment & Labour Associate (1-3 years)

McMillan LLP, one of Canada's leading business law firms, is currently seeking an Associate with one to three years of relevant experience to join its Advocacy & Employment group in Montreal.

McMillan's Advocacy & Employment Group has expertise nationally in a broad range of management-side employment and labour relations matters. The Group advises domestic and international corporate clients in all aspects of federal and provincial employment and labour relations law. Its members represent clients before Quebec and federal courts, labour relations tribunals, government administrative bodies, arbitrators, and human rights tribunals. The Group also counsels vendors and purchasers on the employment aspects of corporate transactions.

Applicants for this position must have between one to three years of relevant employment and labour relations experience with strong professional and academic credentials. The successful candidate will also have a demonstrated ability to manage multiple demands, good interpersonal skills, take on a high level of responsibility, and perform well as part of a team. Moreover, experience in litigation will be considered an asset.

McMillan LLP is well known for its excellent professional development, training, mentorship and support. If you are interested in working within a collegial and forward looking work environment, please submit a cover letter, resume, and law school transcript, in confidence to:
